Connecticut Transportation Updates

Stand Up For Transportation

Please Join Senator Chris Murphy, Congresswoman Elizabeth Esty, Governor Dannel Malloy, Lieutenant Nancy Wyman, CTDOT Commissioner Jim Redeker, along with stakeholders and transportation advocates to support a well-funded, multi-year, federal surface transportation bill that provides for robust transportation growth.

Thursday, April 9th, 10:30 am. Great Hall at Union Station

CTfastrak Opening Ceremony & Inaugural Ride

Following years of planning, design, construction, procurement and marketing, CTfastrak was officially opened in front of a huge crowd on Friday, March 27, 2015. Various transit officials and supporters left the state capitol in two CTfastrak buses and rode to the Downtown New Britain Station where they were welcomed by New Britain Mayor Stewart and Hartford Mayor Segarra.

DOT Commissioner Jim Redeker welcomed the gathered, thanking staff for their hard work and noting that CTfastrak came in "on time and under budget".

Governor Malloy, Acting FTA Administrator Therese McMillan, Congresswoman Elizabeth Esty, and Lieutenant Governor Nancy Wyman praised the opening of the first bus rapid transit system in Connecticut during their remarks.

The festivities included the high school marching band, handing out CTfastrak t-shirts and bags and officials noted that for the first nine days, riding CTfastrak would be free.

Congratulations to Mike Sanders and other CONNDOT staff and David Lee and the CTTransit bus operators.

CACT Member Highlight

Kimberlee Morton, CEO Norwalk Transit District

Kim Morton was appointed the new Norwalk Transit District CEO, and replaces long time Norwalk District Administrator Lou Schulman who retired on January 2, 2015.

Prior to this appointment, Kim served for 13 years at CTTransit as Assistant General Manager of Administration at Connecticut Transit (CTTransit).

And before CTTransit, Kim served as Director of Paratransit Services, Director of Administrative Services, Chief Operating Officer and Acting General Manager at Greater Bridgeport Transit for 15 years.

Kim served on the Connecticut Association for Community Transportation board and belongs to the American Public Transit Association, Employers Association of the North East, Society of Human Resource Managers and the Women's Transportation Seminar.

Upon being selected as the CEO of Norwalk Transit, Kim noted "It's a transit system that has an impeccable reputation. There's some great leadership and people to work with, and I'm looking forward to working side by side with them and looking at new ideas for growth. I'm truly humbled by their decision, because (Schulman) has such a great reputation, not only at the state but also at the federal level. I have some very big shoes to fill."

Norwalk Transit provides bus and other public transportation services including shuttle services for the disabled and elderly, the Norwalk-Milford Coastal Link, the Norwalk-Danbury Link, and Route 41 service from Norwalk to Stamford.

Amtrak Service

Recently the House of Representatives passed a bill to improve Amtrak service and study high speed rail service between New York and Boston. Unfortunately no stops are planned in Connecticut and Governor Malloy noted the plan needs to be amended to include Connecticut or it's "dead on arrival" as far as he's concerned.
