Connecticut Transportation Updates

The Bus Roadeo is Coming!

Bus drivers are gearing up for the Annual Connecticut Statewide Bus Roadeo which features an obstacle course that contestants must complete in seven minutes. The top four finishers are awarded prizes in each of the 40 and 35 foot bus categories and the body on chassis paratransit category. CTTRANSIT organizes the event on behalf of CACT and the Connecticut Department of Transportation. The event will be held on Sunday, June 12 from 8am to 1pm at the Buckland Park and Ride lot in Manchester (exit 62 off of I-84).

Hybrid Electric Buses

CTTRANSIT added 14 new hybrid electric buses in New Haven this spring, which will result in both a reduction in operating costs and a significant savings for the environment. CTTRANSIT introduced its first hydrogen fuel cell bus in 2007 and now has five in operation.

Final Report

The "Economic Importance of Investment in Public Transportation" report for Transit in Connecticut outlines the need for continued transportation capital and operational expenditures and the tremendous benefits that public transportation provides. Security Grant Funding

A Transit Security Grant Program, estimated to fund 75 discretionary grants in 2011, was announced by the U.S. Homeland Security Department. Funding is available to towns, cities, state, county and special district governments. According to FEMA, "The program provides funds to owners and operators of transit systems (which include intra-city bus, commuter bus, freight rail, ferries, and all forms of passenger rail) to protect critical surface transportation infrastructure and the traveling public from acts of terrorism, major disasters and other emergencies." <http://www.fema.gov/government/grant/tsgp/index.shtm>

Say Something

You've seen the billboards, you've seen the buses, you've seen the ads – "If you see something, say something", a new statewide CONNDOT campaign aimed at protecting "the state from terrorism." It's a reminder to all citizens to stay alert and to report anything suspicious. <http://www.cttransit.com/>

CACT Updates

We'll Miss You, Ron

Long time CACT member, present CACT Executive Board Member and transit advocate Ron Kilcoyne was appointed the new General Manager for the Lane Transit District in Eugene, Oregon. In 2007 Ron won the APTA Innovation Award for his implementation at GBT of the ZipTrip Fare Program. Ron's been a transit leader and educator. We will all miss him, and we greatly thank him for his contributions to public transportation in Connecticut.

Opinions & Opportunities

Transit Needs Density

Hartford Courant columnist Tom Condon recently opined about the need for density around transit in his column on Sunday, June 5. He cited the Hartford-New Britain busway, New Haven-Hartford-Springfield commuter rail project as examples of positive directions, along with towns that are seeing a "resurgence of their downtowns in the past decade..."
